BACK TO PULLMAN AFTER THEIR JOBS

STRIKERS HASTEN TO GET IN LINE FOR WORK.

Shops Will Start Next Monday Judging From Present Indications—Southern Pacific Cannot Find Train Forces—Attempt to Wreck an Express on the Big Four.

CHICAGO, July 19.—Many of the Pullman employes applied for work this morning. The works will start next Monday. For the first time since its employes went on strike, May 11, the Pullman Palace Car company yesterday made public overtures to them to return to work. These overtures were in the form of notices posted upon the shop gates which read: "These works will be opened as soon as the number of operatives taken on is sufficient to make a working force in all departments." It is claimed enough men will go back to get the works started, but the strike leaders deny this.

Mr. Wickes said there was little or no change in the situation at Pullman. He said the attitude of the company toward its workmen was exactly the same it had been from the day of the strike. It was always ready to meet them in a friendly spirit and do the best it could for them, and he did not think it had ever signified anything to the contrary.

CAN NOT FIND TRAIN FORCES.

Southern Pacific Unable to Move Its Freights—To Jail for Contempt.

SAN FRANCISCO, Cal., July 18.—Apparently a scarcity of competent trainmen is troubling the officials of the railroads. In Sacramento 150 workmen were induced to go back to the railroad shops yesterday. In Oakland forty men were escorted to and from the railroad shops by a troop of cavalry. The strikers made no attempt to interfere. The preliminary examination of Knox and Worden, strikers accused of murder in having wrecked a train and caused the disaster at Sacramento a week ago, began at Woodland yesterday.

LOS ANGELES, Cal., July 19.—Judge Ross found John Howarth and Engineer Martin Kelley guilty of contempt of court for violating his injunction at Barstow and sentenced each to eight months in jail.

WEST OAKLAND, Cal., July 19.—The following dispatch from Sacramento has been posted by the A. R. U. strike committee: "Fillmore agreed to take back all men without prejudice."

ATTEMPTED TO WRECK AN EXPRESS

Heavy Plank Wedged Into a Big Four Switch at Muncie—Fire on Men.

MUNCIE, Ind., July 19.—An attempt to wreck westbound express train No. 7 on the Big Four road a mile west of Muncie was made last night by wedging a heavy oak plank into a switch frog. A couple of ironworkers discovered and removed the obstruction just before the express arrived.

HUNTINGTON, Ind., July 19.—As a Chicago & Erie freight train was leaving here last night several shots were fired at the engine. No damage was done. A switch engine crew was also fired upon.

BATTLE CREEK, Mich., July 19.—The question of who wrecked the Grand Trunk passenger train Monday morning is still unsolved. No arrest has been made, though beside local and railway detectives there are others attracted by the reward.

CANNOT INQUIRE AS TO MALICE.

Government's Case in the Railroad Men's Matter Closed.

MILWAUKEE, Wis., July 19.—Commissioner Bloodgood yesterday shut off all investigation as to the sources of the information contained in the complaints upon which the striking railroad men were arrested, and would not permit any questions tending to show that the complaining witness had been actuated by malice. Superintendent McKenna said there was a general strike and tie-up, and he knew some of the defendants. He had been told they went out. His testimony finished the government's case unless Judge Seaman should decide that Debs' telegrams should be introduced. Mr. Timlin gave notice that Friday, when Mulford's case would be argued, he would move for the discharge of the following defendants on the ground that no evidence whatever had been produced against them: E. B. Dawes, Edward Reilley, W. Horn, William Crimmins, M. L. Johann, Walter Dunn, John O'Rourke, Robert Blair.

Troops Centering at Butte.

OMAHA, Neb., July 19.—Four companies of the Second regiment at Fort Omaha left last evening for Montana. Gen. Brooke now has thirty-three companies on the road under his command.

BUTTE, Mont., July 19.—The local officials of the A. R. U. say that no violence will be offered the troops when they arrive. Four small bridges have been burned between this city and Lima on the line of the Union Pacific and one blown up with dynamite. The tie-up here is complete.

GREAT FALLS, Mont., July 19.—Col. Penrose passed through yesterday afternoon on a special train with five companies of the Twentieth infantry from Fort Assiniboine. The troops are provisioned for thirty days and will open up the Union Pacific from Butte west.

More Indictments Against Debs.

CHICAGO, July 19.—This morning the federal grand jury will present a number of indictments against rioters in the late strike, to decide on which the jury has labored for the last week. Among the indictments to be presented, it was reported, were one or more against Debs and his immediate associates. The indictment upon which they were arrested was for conspiracy to obstruct the mails and it said nothing about interference with interstate commerce or inciting insurrection against the government. Since then the grand jury has heard a great deal of evidence against the four leaders of the strike, much of it, it is alleged, concerning acts which render the perpetrators liable to presentment on other charges.

Debs Wants No Habeas Corpus.

CHICAGO, July 19.—"We will remain in jail until Monday, when the hearing in this 'contempt' case comes up. Nobody is looking for bonds nor has such a thing as a habeas corpus been suggested," said Eugene V. Debs, president of the American Railway Union, yesterday afternoon.

At a conference held by the attorneys for the defense yesterday it was determined that nothing could be done before Monday, except to file an answer to the information in the contempt proceedings, which will require two or three days. A line of defense was mapped out, but this will not be made public before the hearing Monday.

Plan to Take a Gun.

HAMMOND, Ind., July 19.—Information was broght to Col. O. P. Lee of Gen. Robbins' staff yesterday that a number of rioters had organized themselves into a band for the purpose of shooting down the soldiers of the gatling gun battery in case a serious outbreak should occur. This done they would attempt to seize the machine and turn it upon the infantry troops. Precautions have been taken to prevent such an occurrence.

By a vote of 42 to 37 the local branch of the A. R. U. decided after a turbulent session of four hours' length to return to their places. The men have been out just one week.

Non-Union Men at Brazil.

BRAZIL, Ind., July 19.—More non-union men arrived last night to work on the Chicago & Eastern Illinois railroad. General Manager Broughton said the company had all its crews filled. The strikers are confident and insist the company needs them badly, having made repeated efforts to get them to return.

DANVILLE, Ill., July 19.—The old men employed in the shops and on the Chicago & Eastern Illinois at this point commenced making applications yesterday for places.

Great Northern Men May Strike.

ST. PAUL, Minn., July 19.—There may be trouble on the Great Northern over the determination of that company to take all cars and handle all business in connection with all lines. The Great Northern system furnishes the only instance of the American Railway Union in control, having won their victory, and the men do not feel inclined to strike.

Will Remove Strikers From the Territory

SOUTH MCALESTER, I. T., July 19.—Company D, Tenth Infantry, has arrived from Lehigh for the purpose of removing such men as the Indian agent shall deem intruders and those who have engaged in the strike who refuse to work or allow others to work. Trouble is expected.

Alton Men Refuse to Strike.

ALTON, Ill., July 19.—The local American Federation of Labor held a special meeting and decided not to strike. A week ago the local lodges of the A. R. U. came to the same decision.

Desperadoes Attack Express Agents.

ST. LOUIS, Mo., July 19.—At 7:55 o'clock last night a gang of seven desperadoes headed by "Bill" Crook overpowered the agent of the Fargo express at Red Fork, Indian territory, and secured a small amount of money and a number of packages, the contents of which are not known. The gang then boarded the south-bound passenger train on the Monett branch of the 'Frisco road, which was stopped at Red Forks. Express Messinger Chapman of the Fargo company was overpowered and his car ransacked for valuables, but as far as known they secured nothing.

MINISTER WHITE TO LEAVE RUSSIA

UNITED STATES DIPLOMAT IS FORCED TO RESIGN.

Cornell's Former President Well Received at the Czar's Court But His Health Compels Him to Withdraw—Tariff Conference Doesn't Result In An Agreement.

WASHINGTON, July 1—Andrew D. White, minister to Russia has resigned. Ill health is the reason given. Congressman Breckenridge of Arkansas will probably succeed him. The former president of Cornell was warmly received in Russia and his resignation is a surprise. Congress still fails to agree on the tariff. The democratic conferrees held a brief session yesterday morning and adjourned before 12 o'clock. They made another effort to reach an agreement, but it proved ineffectual, and the meeting adjourned with the understanding that the full conference of the committee would report a disagreement. The republican members of the committee will make no opposition to this course.

FOR THE NEW REVENUE STAMPS

Commissioner Smith Gathering the Portraits of His Predecessors in Office.

WASHINGTON, July 19.—Joseph Smith, commissioner of internal revenue, has already begun making preparations for carrying into effect the internal features of the pending tariff bill. During the last few days he has been gathering the portraits of all his predecessors who are dead, with the view of engraving them on the new series of revenue stamps. The records show that Tench Coxe of Pennsylvania, who served from 1792 to 1797, was the first commissioner of internal revenue; William Miller, also from Pennsylvania, who served from 1798 to 1803, was second commissioner. The others now dead were: S. H. Smith of the District of Columbia, Joseph G. Lewis, Pennsylvania; William Orton, New York; Edward A. Rollins, New Hampshire; Danial Pratt, Indiana. The portrait of each of these will be engraved and printed on the new series of stamps.

WASHINGTON, July 19.—The senate committee on territories has decided to recommend the admission of Arizona and New Mexico as states and instructed the subcommittees which have the bills in charge to make favorable reports at the meeting of the full committee next Wednesday.

After the adjournment of the full committee, the subcommittee on New Mexico, consisting of Messrs. Blackburn, White and Shoup, held a meeting and put the bill in shape for presentation. The amendments made by them provide for a change of date for the election and the constitutional convention to correspond with the dates in the Utah bill. The Arizona subcommittee has not yet taken action.

QUAY'S THREAT.

Pennsylvania Senator Says He Is Preparing Another Tariff Speech.

WASHINGTON, July 19.—There are about eighty pages of the Congressional record in type, containing the last portion of the speech of Senator Quay. This has not been delivered, but it is understood that the Pennsylvania senator will be allowed to have it printed as a portion of his remarks. There is now a rumor that Mr. Quay is preparing it to deliver when the conference report is presented. He was asked if he was fixing up this speech and said:

"I am preparing a new one."

"When will you deliver it?"

"Can't tell. I will have to wait until I see the bill."

LONDON, July 19.—A dispatch from Shanghai gives additional details regarding the news received from Seoul, the capital of Corea, that Japanese soldiers recently insulted the British consul at that place and his wife, which resulted in the landing of thirty British blue-jackets to guard the British legation. The consul was dragged fifty yards and was beaten by the Japanese soldiers, who used their fists repeatedly. The chair of the consul's wife was pushed into a ditch. OFF FOR EUROPE.

Injunctions and Legal Proceedings Fail to Hold Miss Russell in America.

NEW YORK, July 19.—Lillian Russell, having exhausted the visible supply of husbands in this country, sailed on the American liner Paris to-day, despite injunctions and the warnings of hostile lawyers to defer her departure. She went aboard at the very last moment, when the gongs were sounding all ashore for the last time. Until she appeared there was not an indication that she was going. None of her baggage was aboard, and not a flower nor a fruit basket for her was among the souvenirs of that sort piled high and wide in the saloon for other voyagers, and her state suite was as bare as though it were never to be occupied.

After the murder Mrs. Meagher drove to the jail with her husband and delivered herself up to the authorities.

WHERE THE EARTH WAS SHAKEN

Alarm Caused in Some Parts of the South—Three Distinct Shocks Felt.

MEMPHIS, Tenn., July 19.—Three distinct earthquake shocks were felt here yesterday morning. The vibration was from north to south. The shocks came at 6:37 a. m. (local time), and lasted about four seconds. They were felt throughout the surrounding territory in West Tennessee. Chandeliers swayed and dishes on shelves rattled, but no damage was done.

ST. LOUIS, Mo., July 19.—A slight shock of a supposed earthquake was felt in this vicinity about 7:10 a. m. yesterday. IN THE SENATE.

Indian Appropriation Bill Gives Rise to a Lengthy Discussion.

WASHINGTON, July 19.—In the senate yesterday Mr. Carey called up the senate bill to reserve for ten years in each of several states 1,000,000 acres of arid lands to be reclaimed and sold in small tracts to actual settlers, and it was passed.

The Indian appropriation bill was then taken up. A petition from citizens of various counties in Pennsylvania protesting against the violation of the American principle of separation of church and state involved in the appropriations for sectarian schools in the Indian appropriation bill was presented by Mr. Quay, who also moved that further consideration of the bill be postponed for two weeks so that the order of Patriotic Sons of America might be heard upon it. The motion was lost. A lengthy discussion as to the propriety of giving state aid to sectarian schools followed. The committee amendment was then agreed to.

The conference report on the naval appropriation bill was presented and agreed to.

An additional paragraph appropriating $18,750 for the St. Joseph Indian industrial school in Wisconsin was agreed to. Adjourned.

FIRES THREATEN DULUTH.

They Approach to the Borders of the City, Causing Alarm.

DULUTH, Minn., July 19.—Forest fires are gaining in the woods back of the city. At noon yesterday the smallpox hospital, where there are four convalescents, was threatened, and all the patients and furniture were moved. Fires in northern Wisconsin are damaging much timber along the Eastern Minnesota and Northern Pacific roads.

CHIPPEWA FALLS, Wis., July 19.—Forest fires are burning furiously in the vicinity of Boyd, this county. Northern Wisconsin is like a tinder box on account of the long drouth, and unless rain comes soon great damage will be done to pine and hardwood tracts.

No Woman Vote for New York.

ALBANY, N. Y., July 19.—The fate of the woman suffrage movement appears to be settled, so far as the suffrage committee of the constitutional convention is concerned. This committee, by a vote of 13 to 4, is against the women who want to have the ballot. A subcommittee reported to the main committee in favor of submitting the general woman suffrage question to the electors, and it was thought that this might be conceded as a compromise. But the proposition falls with all the others concerning the woman suffrage question, except the single overture to permit women to vote for school commissioners.

Burn a Rock Island Bridge.

NORTH END, O. T., July 19.—The war of the torch and the bomb along the line of the Rock Island railroad in the Cherokee strip continues. The burning of a 90-foot bridge one mile north of Waukomis station shortly after midnight last night is the latest outrage. The bridge was burned just after the passage of a passenger train going south and was completely destroyed. The railroad company has abandoned freight traffic. Another company of United States troops from Fort Leavenworth will arrive here this evening.

Flames Prey on Frame Dwellings.

TRAER, Iowa, July 19.—The third big fire here in three months broke out at 1 o'clock this morning, and twelve stores, two shops, and half a dozen dwellings went up in an hour. The losses foot up $50,000. The fire is supposed to have been incendiary, and arrests are promised.

America May Arbitrate.

WASHINGTON, July 19.—The United States is exerting its good offices to bring about an amicable arrangement between Japan and Corea. Officially this is all the authorities of the state department will say at the present time regarding the Corea-Japan and China trouble.

WHY THEY REFUSE THE SCHOOL BONDS

REASONS GIVEN BY THE CHICAGO BANK.

Lack of Authority on the Part of the Common Council Is Alleged—Bearing of Janesville's Special Charter Upon the Subject—Local Attorneys Satisfied.

Janesville's bond question is the theme of general discussion. To make things plainer the opinion on which the bonds were rejected is given. Mayor Thoroughgood's letter from the Illinois Trust and Savings Co. Bank is as follows:

MR. JOHN THOROUGHGOOD, MAYOR, JANESVILLE, WIS., DEAR SIR:—We regret very much to have to inform you that our attorney has rendered an adverse opinion of the issue of the city of Janesville 5 per cent school bonds, which were awarded to us on our bid, and we are therefore obliged to reject the issue. If steps are taken immediately to remove the objections against the issue, and if all defects can be remedied within a reasonable time, we stand ready to take the bonds at our bid, provided, however, that the bond market does not change for the worse meanwhile. We enclose herewith copy of opinion. Yours truly, B. M. CHATTELL. Ass't Cash.

The opinion to which reference is made is as follows:

CHICAGO, JULY 17, 1894. TO THE ILLINOIS TRUST & SAVINGS BANK—I have examined into the validity of a proposed issue of bonds by the city of Janesville in the state of Wisconsin, said bonds being 104 in number, for the sum of five hundred dollars ($500) each, bearing interest at the rate of five per cent. per annum, and to be issued for the purpose of raising money wherewith to construct a high school building and to purchase a site therefor, pursuant to Sections 942 and 943 of Sanborn & Berryman's Annotated Statutes of Wisconsin of 1889.

And I have the following to say:

First—In my opinion the exercise of the general power, granted to cities by said Section 942, to borrow money and issue negotiable bonds for the purpose of "the construction of school buildings" or "to accomplish any other purpose in the lawful power of such corporation," is predicated upon the power to construct such school buildings, and such other lawful power, having previously been either expressly or impliedly granted. The copy of the charter of said city of Janesville submitted for my examination contains no express power to construct or erect school buildings, and in my opinion such power cannot be fairly implied from the express powers granted by said charter. I, therefore, conclude that said city of Janesville, under its present charter, cannot avail itself of the provisions of said Section 942.

Second—A further difficulty has been met with in regard to this issue of bonds. The city of Janesville was incorporated by, and is operating under, a special charter granted by the legislature of the state of Wisconsin, and has a population of about 12,000 inhabitants. The legislature of Wisconsin at its session of 1893 passed an act known as Chapter 311 of the laws of Wisconsin, 1893, by the first section of which the common council of any city incorporated by and operating under a special charter granted by the legislature of said state, containing a population of 3,000 inhabitants or more, is authorized to issue corporate bonds for certain purposes among others the following: "For the erection, construction and completion of school buildings and the purchase of school sites;" and in, and by the fourth section of said act, the common council of any such city is further empowered to provide for the purchase of the real and personal property and for the construction of the buildings mentioned in the first section of said act. Presuming that this act of 1893 is constitutional, it is my opinion that section 942 of Sanborn & Berryman's Annotated Statutes is thereby repealed in so far as said Section 942 operates on cities covered by the act of 1893 in regard to the issue of bonds for the purpose of the construction of school buildings and the purchase of sites therefor.

Third:—However, the constitutionality of said act of 1893, has been questioned and I understand a test case is to be instituted in the courts of Wisconsin and to be carried to the supreme court thereof with as much expedition as possible for the purpose of determining the question thus raised, and in view of that fact I deem it unnecessary for me at this time to give my opinion in regard thereto.

Fourth:—Should said act of 1893 be determined to be constitutional I can now see no reason why the city of Janesville, by complying with its provisions, could not issue its bonds thereunder for the purpose of constructing a high school building and purchasing a site therefor.

Fifth:—In the event of said act of 1893, being declared unconstitutional my opinion given hereinbefore, that said city of Janesville, under its present charter, cannot avail itself of the provisions of said section 942, would obtain.

After careful consideration, I would advise that the purchase of the bonds now offered be refused. (Signed)

CHARLES F. MORSE.

Most of the Janesville attorneys who have examined the question are perfectly satisfied that the bonds are legal []

J. W. BATES CLAIMS BELOIT

He Says He Has a Title to Mechanics Green in the Line City.

Not satisfied with owning the ends of several Janesville streets, J. W. Bates wants Beloit. The tract known as "Merchanic's Green" is claimed by him on deed, right and title procured from Mrs. Walter D. Sims, of Denver. The Free Press says:

"J. W. Bates returned from Denver today, with a deed of all the right, title and interests of Mrs. Walter D. Sims, in blocks 10 and 11, original plat of Beloit, Rice's survey, commonly known as "Mechanics Green," in his pocket, which vests the ownership in him, the said J. W. Bates, provided the city of Beloit is not the owner, which Mr. Bates is willing to make affidavit it is not."

Engineer From Milwaukee is Laying Out the Road—A Dangerous Point.

Charles Lapham, civil engineer of the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul railway, is laying out a new railway crossing five miles west of the city. The town authorities are having considerable difficulty in the matter. Neither the town official or the railway desire the crossing, especially at the point named, as it crosses at a point on the railway where the trains approaching from the east are hidden from view until they are right onto the highway. The new road, however, necessitates the placing of the crossing at this particular point.

CATHOLICS ASK NO PUBLIC MONEY

Knights Hold That Sectarian Schools Are Not Entitled to Help.

Patrick Kavanagh is the Janesville delegate to the state convention of Catholic Knights at Oshkosh. The session developed a resolution putting the society on record as opposed to a division of the public school fund, holding that sectarian schools had no claim on the money of the taxpayers, and defeating the proposed constitutional amendment making membership in secret societies no bar to eligibility in the Catholic Knights. They meet at Stevens Point next time.

FREE FOR ALL RACE WILL BE A HOT ONE

RACE SET FOR THURSDAY EXPECTED TO DEVELOP SPEED

Maggie R., One of the Entries Once Made Mascot Go at Top Speed and the Time Will Be Made 2:15—Notes of Interest for the Horsemen.

Janesville's free-for-all pacing race next Thursday will be a hot contest. In it are Dr. J., Two Strike, Free Coinage, Rocker, Telegram, Kessell's Dallas, Charley Ford and Maggie R They are all good ones, Maggie R. being the mare who once out paced Mascot at Washington Park, Chicago, but was beaten the next day when the race was postponed. They are all fast animals and Janesville people will see enough heats to win the purse paced in better than 2:15. In this class at Fond du Lac, Albert E., who is not entered here, was with Susie G., another horse that Janesville people will not see, second; Rocker third; Dr. J. fourth; Free Coinage fifth and Telegram distanced in 2:11¼, 2:13½ and 2:12. Rocker was a good second in the last heat but Albert E and Susie had the speed of the party. The Janesville race will be uncertain, for although neither Albert nor Susie will be here, Charley Ford, Two Strike and last but not least Maggie R. are in the Janesville contest.

John Kelly Won In the Dust.

John Kelly had to ride in the dust at Detroit yesterday. Robert J won the free-for-all pace with Online second, Guy third, and Reflector fourth. Kelly came next with W. W. P. and he had the satisfaction of seeing Flying Jib distanced behind him in the first heat.

Mark's Maid, who is entered in the three year old and under pace won that event at Waukesha, the best time being 2:21, but none of the horses who competed with her there are entered for the race here next Sunday. Mark's Maid paced here last June in the same class and got third money, finishing second to Ethel A. in the first heat in 2:22½ and eighth in the second heat in 2:17¼.

Another of Tuesday's events will be in the 2:27 class. Earl Finch, a horse that is not entered here won it with Dandy L. second, Black Visitor, third. Ben Gaines, Miss McLean and Al B., all of whom are also entered here were outside the money.

John C. Chadwick has Kate Phallamont in the 2:20 class at Waukesha today. Kate is going well this season and will make them hustle in her class.

SUMMER WARDROBES.

Fashion at a Standstill, but It Is Time to Wear and Enjoy.

It is now the season when fashion is nearly at a standstill. Summer wardrobes are all arranged, and it is too early to think of fall ones. Women want to wear and enjoy the pretty things they already have rather than go through the fiery ordeal of shopping and being fitted. The odors of town, although quite as characteristic in their way, are less appreciated at present than the fragrance of sea and country places. The smell of pines or fresh seaweed in the sun is better than all the manufactured essences in the market. If some one would only invent a method of bottling it up for winter use, the stock of potpourri jars would drop hopelessly.

The woman who is enjoying these scents at first hand is undoubtedly already provided with her outing suit of black, blue or brown serge, made with an unlined skirt and blazer or Eton jacket. Such a costume may be worn with a thick or thin bodice, as the weather demands, and will endure any amount of rough usuage, rain, spray and dust. She also has her dotted or flowered muslin gown much frilled and furbelowed, which she puts on after her return from boating or fishing excursions in the aforesaid rough and ready garments. A bath and a fresh dress are wonderful revivifiers after fatiguing exercise, so it is worth while, merely from a hygienic point of view, to have several nainsook gowns as prettily trimmed as one can afford. Of course she has a broad brimmed flower laden hat to correspond and long wash leather or silk gloves, as well as a white, scarlet or dark blue sun umbrella to keep the flowers on the hat from fading. She has not forgotten the light silk gown trimmed with lace for formal occasions nor the two or three evening gowns, one probably of black net or grenadine. In fact, it is doubtful if her wardrobe is not well stocked with most of the things in vogue just now, except possibly the newest inventions in gauzy arrangements to be worn around the neck and shoulders. Something fresh in that line is continually appearing, and the latest is shown in the cut. It is of black mousseline de soie puffed over the shoulders and falling in two points in front. It is draped across the upper part of the chest and is collarless.

LOCAL SOLDIERS SORRY FOR RACINE

Company F. Will Be Missed At Camp Douglas This Summer.

Janesville militia men will be sorry to hear that the Racine Light Guard will be mustered from the service of state. Captain Wood and his men were all well liked and they will be missed at Camp Douglas this season. Captain Wood says the burning of the armory and other conditions that no one could help, retarded the company's drills and caused them to stand below standard on inspection. He urges that the company be given another chance before being mustered out and is confident that it will come up to the required standard. Janesville soldiers all hope that this will be done.

TRIVIAL TALKS.

Stiggins—Does your wife like pets? Stoggins—I think she does. She's often in one.

He—Her heart is as hard as glass. I can't make any impression on it. She—Have you tried a diamond?

The New Parlor Maid—Miss Alice says she's not at home, sir. He—Oh—er—really! Then tell her I didn't call.

Uncle—Is your little dog intelligent? Small Nephew—Well, he hasn't got so very much sense in his head, but his tail seems to know a lot.

Daughter—Papa went off in great good humor this morning. Mother—My goodness! That reminds me. I forgot to ask him for any money.

Wife—How people gaze at my new dress! I presume they wonder if I've been shopping in Paris. Husband—More likely they wonder if I've been robbing a bank.

She—If every atom of the human body is renewed every seven years, I cannot be the same woman that you married. Husband — I've been suspecting that for some time.

"But do you understand music well enough to report this concert in a way that will interest persons that care for such things?" Reporter—Well, I think I can. I've read nothing but fashion notes for a week.

Visitor—And how did my little pet like the theater? Little Girl—Not very much. The actors didn't act as if they was just actin'; they acted as if it was all so—an' that made me uncomfortable. "Why?" "I felt just as if I was peekin' through a keyhole into somebody else's house."

Inventor—Now I've struck it. I have invented a new life-saving contrivance for trolley cars. Look at the drawings. Friend—Too complicated. Sure to be expensive. No road will buy it. Inventor—They won't, eh? Just wait. They will actually tumble over each other in their haste to adopt it. My machine raises the victim from the track and pitches him over the dashboard into the car, where the conductor can collect his fare.

A peculiar succession of calamitous events in a single household occurred the other day in Elmira. When a sugar refinery wharf needs a new floor the old one is not thrown away or sold to a junk dealer, but carted into the refinery and boiled. The planks are saturated with sugar, molasses and a variety of other things not usually deemed edible. The refinery process, however, separates the absorbed sugar from the impurities, and the refiners make a handsome saving by boiling up the old floor.

MRS. JUDE IN AGONY AND CANNOT MOVE

THE TENT EVANGELISTS USED HER SHAMEFULLY.

When Prayer Proved Unavailing They Put Her on the Edge of the Bed and Straightened Her Legs By Main Strength—Gazette an Expensive One.

William Jude of Milwaukee, is in the city, called here by the news of his mother's pitiable condition. He found that prayer and anointing had brought serious results.

"The tent evangelists told mother that they wanted to anoint her and pray over her," said Mr. Jude. "The prayer didn't seem to avail, and no wonder, mother has been bedridden for nearly twenty years. The muscles of both legs have contracted so that she has had to keep her knees drawn up close to her face for fifteen years. It was an absolute impossibility for her to extend her limbs. When the evangelist found that she didn't do as he commanded he put the poor old lady on the edge of the bed and tried to straighten her legs by main force. Mother fell back almost fainting from pain. They repeated the effort several times and finally put her in a chair. She had to go right back to bed, of course, but they went down to the tent meeting and claimed they had cured her. Ever since they treated her she has suffered terribly. Her legs have swelled all out of shape and she is in agony twenty-four hours out of the day. If I had been in town when those tent people called, I should have emptied them into the street very fast."

Because of his skepticism Mr. Jude is being "boiled" by the evangelists at the evening meetings. He doesn't get all the compliments however. Evangelist Welch said last night:

"We never have charged $25 for casting out devils, but it would be worth $7000 to cast out the devils in the man who runs The Gazette."

All of which is very cheering on a hot day.

Horse Sense

If you have the sense of a horse you must know that people who buy stuff for half price can knock the wadding out of those long time fellows who buy at the out side price. Take all the time the law allows and buy when they sell the goods. We are willing to divide the profit with you on all of our purchases. Could you ask anything fairer? We don't lie to you, say we sell the goods at cost; we do make profit, but we buy the stuff way down and sell you same way.

This story is told at the expense of the empress of Austria, in connection with royal photographs. Permission to be granted a sitting by her majesty was always refused, till one up-to-date photographer issued to the trade a counterfeit presentment, which was so unlike as to be almost a caricature. The royal vanity was touched, and thenceforth appeared more pleasing and much more truthful portraits of the empress.

PLENTY OF SOLDIERS.

A change in the disposition of the United States military forces is very likely after the strike. The strike has developed two facts. One is that the big cities need protection fully as much as the western ranches. Another is that, though our standing army is comparatively small, our aggregate military resources, available in any serious emergency, are superior to those of any other nation in the world. In addition to the 25,000 men composing the regular army, we have an organized, drilled and equipped militia of 112,000, representing all arms of the service, and subject to the orders of the president for immediate and effective use. That is to say, we have a total trained force of 137,000 men that can be put in the field at an hour's notice. This force alone is sufficient for any contingency that is at all likely to arise in our domestic affairs, and no foreign enemy would be able to make much headway against it. We could carry on an ordinary war without any addition to the soldiers who are already enlisted and prepared to march at the tap of the drum for the vindication of our rights and the protection of our interests. There is an assurance of safety in this fact that is not generally appreciated. We are apt to think that our little standing army is our only reliance in the event of sudden trouble, when the truth is that no recruiting would be required to provide an army as large as was engaged in any of the great battles of the civil war.

ARBITRATION IS IN FAVOR.

Arbitration, by mutual consent, not by compulsion on one side, has been tried in Boston this year with excellent results. The bricklayers asked 45 cents an hour, and the contractors, owing to dull times, offered but 35 cents. The matter was submitted to an arbitrator, who weighed the conditions carefully and fixed the rate at 42 cents. The figure, of course, was accepted in good faith by both sides, and it will hold over next year. The bricklayers have not lost a day, and have aided any person intending to build to make exact estimates. The way to arrange an arbitration is by reaching the reason of both sides by amicable methods. There is talk of arbitrating international disputes, but not by one side sending its army and novy to bring it about.

HOKE SMITH'S WORK.

One of the saddest of the many sad things that the Cleveland administration is responsible for is told of in a dispatch from Rockford. It says:

"Fredolin Geng, a G. A. R. veteran of this city, committed suicide today by taking arsenic. Failure to have his pension restored, which was cut off, was the cause of the act. He leaves a large family."

Three cheers for Hoke Smith, the confederate pension cutter.

Congressman Breckinridge, of Kentucky, says the newspapers have lied about him and slandered him. He may have been lied about, but after his own statement under oath in a Washington court it would not be possible to slander him.

The United States senator who hasn't made a personal explanation, charging the newspapers with misrepresenting him, will soon be rare enough to make a drawing exhibit in a museum of freaks.

The wise summer girl stays at home and takes her pick, while her unwise sister goes to the summer resorts and scrambles with a crowd for the attention of any fellow that happens to come along.

Money and sentiment are both good things in their way, but neither should be allowed to determine the next republican presidential nomination.

Bostonians have not yet decided whether to consider New Yorkers making Boston synonymous with heaven a compliment or a slur.

There is one striking point of similarity between a Wall street broker and a Coxeyite—they both live at the expense of others.

It seems that Hon. Henri Watterson is willing to swap his guardianship of the star-eyed goddess for an unspotted senatorial toga.

Surely Charles A. Dana did not have to go to Europe to find out that the democratic party had broken all its promises.

"Give us no more Debs" would be an appropriate addition to the prayer of the man who struck himself out of a job.

The labor organizations of the country will in time cease to be victimized by notoriety-seeking fool leaders.

Debs and Coxey can now go to some quiet place and discuss the fleeting qualities of notoriety.

Arsenic and Blue Vitrol in the Pail They Used in Compounding a Summer Day Beverage—Beloit Ball Players Won't Come—Bad Boys Fined $5 Apiece.

ARSENIC and blue vitrol gave zest to the lemonade at the west side engine house to-day. The boys were mending hose and wanted something to cool their throats. They made lemonade in a pail borrowed from the battery room, rinsing the blue vitrol out as well as they could. Some was left in, however, and when it was wet it began to work on the green paint which covered the inside of the pail. The lemons did their part by "cutting" the paint and releasing the arsenic. All the boys drank freely, and several youngsters who strayed in were given dipperfuls. It was but a few minutes before Thomas Abbott, Peter Champion, J. C. McGinley, W. A. Scott and Henry Kline were writhing in agony. Dr. Joe Whiting was hurried in and put an emetic where it would do the most good. He brought the firemen out all right and meanwhile the small boys were being filled up with mustard and warm water. It was a narrow escape for all.

KNOCKED OFF A ROOF BY THE CURRENT

EDDIE LEE CLINGS TO THE TROLLEY WIRE.

One Hand on the Line the Other on the Street Car Connection—A Moment Later Bystanders Pickkd Up the Boy Supposing Him to Be Dead—He Will Recover.

Eddie Lee dove head first from the top of a street car last evening, his whole body and limbs paralyzed and limp from a charge received from the trolly. Young Lee climbed up on the car to remove a telephone wire. He was a little careless in his movement, or ignorant of the danger before him. Bracing himself by taking hold of the trolley pole with one hand, he reached out the other grasping the trolley wire, and the deadly current passed through him. It was fortunate that he stood in a partly bent position when his body took the charge, as his own weight was sufficient to pull him away and he fell to the car deck and rolled off to the ground. Had he been standing straight, his chance to escape would have been very light. The current would have held him fast and he would have been fatally shocked.

"Lee Pierson and myself were removing the old wire to the Victor works, on the Madison road near the factory," said Willitz, of the telephone exchange in explaining the accident. "Pierson was on a pole at one side and I was on the opposite pole. The car came along, Eddie Lee being the conductor. Before I realized what young Lee was doing the accident occurred. I thought he was dead when we picked him up. His legs and arms were badly burned, and his side was injured by the fall from the car." Lee was taken to the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Lucius Lee, Division street, and physicians were called. He is better today and will recover. He had a very narrow escape.

DENTISTS SAW THEORIES TESTED

Practical Work Done Before the Convention In the Armory Today

Dentists gathered around operating chairs in the Armory today and watched practical demonstrations of new methods. The clinics were in charge of Dr. Charles C. Southwell of Milwaukee, who bore the burden of arranging the programme for the entire meeting and who gets credit for making this the most important convention the association has held in years.

The officers elected today were:

President—Dr. C. C. Chittenden, Madison.

First Vice President—Dr. Thor. Judd, Janesville.

Second Vice President—Dr. H. A. Palmer, Janesville.

Secretary—Dr. C. A. Southwell, Milwaukee.

Treasurer—Dr. B. Douglas, Appleton.

Board of Examiners—Dr. L. J. Stephan, Milwaukee; Dr. C. W. Bennett, Monroe; Dr. W. H. Corson.

Resolutions were adopted touching upon the death of Dr. E. F. Long, of Black RiverFalls, and Dr. Carolus P. Southwell, of Milwaukee, ex-presidents of the society.

Dr. D. M. Cattell, of Chicago, made an extremely interesting display of sections of carios and normal teeth, Dr. Cattell being an authority on this subject. Dr. J. P. Flaherty, of West Bend, conducted a very interesting clinic, using a special matrix of his own construction, illustrating his well-defined ideas in the insertion of alloy filling. Alloy and amalgam are blanket terms for all those fillings commonly called "silver."

Dr. J. W. Boisol, of Black River Falls showed Zellers method of casting aluminum dentures. Dr. George H. McCausey demonstrated the use of the Woodward matrix with soft gold.

Last evening the dentists enjoyed a ride on the Columbia. They went as far as the water permitted and stopped for an hour at Crystal Springs.

HOW THE DELEGATION STANDS

Majority Will Favor Monahan, the First Districts Only Candidate.

Of the Rock county delegates to the state convention, one man is understood to be determided to vote forCaswell on the first ballot. Three more are supposed to be for Caswell as soon as the delegation breaks and the others will go to Milwaukee in the interest of Monahan and the First district. They argue that unless Rock county men stand with the rest of the district, Rock's chance for favors from the other counties in times to come will be very slim. The enforcement of the unit rule will strengthen the hands of the majority and fix it so that Rock will cast a solid vote.

Drowning at Fort Angeles, Wash.

FORT ANGELES, Wash., July 10.—In a drowning accident near here, J. H. Johnson, August Nelson and John Dippol lost their lives. The three left yesterday afternoon in a fishing boat for Dungness Spit, four miles east of the city. Their boat capsized in view of the people on the beach who heard their cries for help, but having no boats could render no aid.

Indicted for Employing Aliens.

BUFFALO, July 19.—The grand jury has reported an indictment against Henry J. Warren, superintendent of the Barber Asphalt company, for employing alien labor on city work contrary to a law passed by the last legislature, which prohibits the employment of any but citizens on state or municipal work.

BEYOND ALL CARE AND SORROW.

Mrs. Winfield S. Chase.

A life that gave out nothing but sunshine and good cheer was ended by the death of Mrs. Winfield S. Chase in Portland yesterday. Mrs. Chase had been in poor health for several months. Some weeks ago her daughter, Mrs. E. J. Samuels, and son, S. A. Chase, were called to Portland by the dangerous illness of their mother. Her condition improved and Mr. Chase came home, but Mrs. Samuels and her daughter remained and were with their mother when the end came. Word of her death came to Stewart A. Chase in this dispatch: "The end came soon after midnight without much suffering."

It was Mrs. Chase's wish that she be laid to rest in Portland and the interment will be in that city. Many in Janesville will mourn sincerely over her death, for the friendships she made were firm and lasting. She possessed rare charms of personality, which grew doubtless from her constant care for the feelings of others and the happiness of those about her. A native of Virginia Mrs. Chase was married in Baltimore and came to this city very soon after. She was a member of the First Baptist church and was active in religious work. It was not until five years ago that she moved to Portland and she never lost her regard for her old home.

The husband and four children survive her, her daughters being Mrs. G. H. Strout, of Portland, and Mrs. E. J. Samuels, of this city; her sons, Stewart A. Chase, of Janesville, and E. T. Chase, of Portland.

Frank Maine.

Frank Maine, aged twenty-three years died at the home of his mother, Mrs. B. Maine, in the Third ward, at 10:30 this morning. Mr. Main was taken sick Friday night with inflamation of the bowels, and in spite of all that could be done for him the hand of death could not be stayed. He had been in the employ of the Thoroughgood Company for many years, enjoying the confidence of all his associates. His sudden death will be a shock to his many friends. The time of the funeral will be announced tomorrow.

Mrs. Elizabeth Marooney.

Mrs. Elizabeth Marooney died at her residence on Western avenue yesterday, aged seventy-two years. She leaves five children, two sons and three daughters. The funeral will be held from St. Patrick's church Friday morning at 9 o'clock, and the interment will be at Mount Olivet.

F. C. Eddy.

F. C. Eddy, of La Crosse, died this morning at 7 a. m. at the home of L. E. Otis two miles south of the city. He was forty years of age. His trouble was Bright's disease, ond bis illness was of short duration. The funeral will be held to-morrow at 2 p. m. at the home of Mr. Otis.

Train Jumps Over a Hole.

WILKESBARRE, Pa., July 19.—A Lehigh Valley freight was running down a heavy grade near here yesterday, when the engineer saw the roadbed about a hundred feet ahead drop suddenly into an old mine working. The train could not be stopped, and Engineer Titus clapped on a full head of steam. The hole by this time was twelve feet wide, but though the ties were unsupported, the train reached the other side in safety before they, too, dropped into the mine.

EMPTIED A PISTOL AT THE MARSDENS

CHARLES GREEN GOES GUNNING FOR NEIGHBORS.

Five Bullets Whizzed Through the Air and People of Oakland Avenue Rushed Out in Scanty Attire to Ascertain What the Fuss Was About.

Oakland avenue people were aroused from their sleep last night by the rapid discharge of firearms. Five shots fired in quick succession at the dead of night in that quiet street was unusual, and peaceable citizens rushed to their doors and windows in their night clothes to ascertain the cause. They were not long in finding out. Charles Green held the pistol and was gunning for H. J. Marsden and wife. People hurried down the avenue, on Main and Bluff streets in search of an officer, and it was not until 2 o'clock this morning that Officer Cochrane caught his man.

This morning Mr. Marsden made complaint before Judge Phelps, charging Green with murderously assaulting him and his wife, in that he fired five shots at them from a revolver.

When sober, Green is inoffensive, but while under the influence of liquor, as he must have been last night, he seems to have no control of himself. The charge lodged against him is a very serious one, the penalty being confinement in the state prison.

Green was brought into the municipal court this afternoon, and listened to the reading of the information filed by the district attorney. His case was then continued until July 20, the defendant being committed in default of $500 bail. It is claimed that Green made a desperate attempt upon the life of Mrs. Marsden. After calling Mr. and Mrs. Marsden to the door, he fired five shots through the closed screen door at her, threatening to kill her. He is a perfect wreck from the effects of excessive drinking, and in his present condition can hardly be held responsible for his actions.

Do You Know Sanspareil?

Read the following and you will understand more about it.

NEW YORK CITY, Oct. 5, 1879.

To Whom it May Concern:

After forty years of successful practice in this city and realizing that my work is done, I want to make the following statement concerning the secret of my success. Many who read this statement will remember that I frequently said that I would give $100 for any case of rheumatism that I could not cure. I was equally successful in treating inflammation and diphtheria. These cures were always effected by the use of a liniment that I prepared myself. I was offered at one time $7,000 for the formula. Its absorbing qualities surpass anything I have ever seen and it will cure rheumatism, neuralgia, tumors, inflammation of various kinds, sprains and bruises on both man and beast like magic. I shall beqeath it with a small legacy to my grandson, Wilbur F. Requa, and hope that he will some day put it on the market. This is Sanspareil.

NOTES FROM THE INDUSTRIAL WORLD

LATE HAPPENINGS IN FIELDS OF INDUSTRY.

An Automatic Motor with Oscillating Lever—An Improved Gate—The Unicycle Promises to Supercede the Bicycle—Notes and Comments.

In this motor a pivoted oscillating lever has at its ends buckets which alternately receive and discharge water as the ends of the lever rise and fall, the actual weight of the water thus operating the motor with very little friction and a minimum loss of power. In the illustration the motor is represented operating a double-acting pump, which, with the motor, is arranged within a suitable open casing at the lower side of a dam in a small stream, the small figure being a detail view at one end of the lever with the bucket raised. In the middle of each bucket is a valve with downwardly extending stem which strikes the base of the frame when the bucket goes down, so that the valve is unseated and the water runs out, the valve being automatically seated when the bucket reaches its uppermost position, where it is connected with a water trough from a central chute. The beam is held in position, while being filled, by a hook which automatically engages a hook on a lever fulcrumed in bearings on the main frame, the other end of the lever being weighted and the weight resting on a spring, whereby the raised end of the beam is locked in place until the water entering the bucket overbalances the weighted lever. The horizontal water trough from which the buckets are supplied is supported by swinging hangers, the trough being connected by links with elbow levers pivoted in the frame of the motor above the highest point of oscillation, whereby the trough is alternately shifted to supply the bucket first on one side and then on the other, A curved guide rod steadies the buckets in their up and down movement.

An Improved Typewriter.

An inventor at the west claims to have constructed a machine which will accomplish not only the work of an ordinary typewriter, but is adopted for successful operation in the case of bound books of any size, as the device can be readily clasped upon a book of any breadth or thickness, for the recording of a deed or other instrument of writing. In this mechanism there are seventy-four characters, including all carried by the usual machines, while there are but twenty-seven keys to be operated, and in its movement it strikes downward or travels over the page or paper from left to right, along a spacing bar, the printing contrivance which moves along the bar weighing only four and one-half pounds, while the clasps and the entire apparatus weigh only nine and three-fourths pounds. There is also provided an ingenious kind of lining arrangement—suitable for application likewise to other typewriters—insuring perfect regulation of the distances between lines until the machine is finally worn out.

An Improved Farm Gate.

According to the improvement shown in the illustration, which has been patented by Richard T. Mulcahy of Rosenburg, Texas, the gate is supported centrally on a pivot post and adapted to be swung in either direction by levers and pull cords, the improvement being also applicable to a single gate. At the front and rear of the center of the gate opening are standards in alignment with the swing post, and above the top rail of the gate, at each side of the swing post, is pivoted a latch, the latches being guided in studs or standards on the gate and engaging keepers on opposite sides of the keeper posts. Each of these upper latches is also connected near its outer end by a vertical rod or link with a similar lower latch pivoted on the lower rail of the gate, and engaging a similar lower keeper on one of the keeper posts. Above the gate, on each side of the swing post, are fulcrumed bell crank or elbow levers, each of which is connected, at each end, by a link, with one end of a lever centrally fulcrumed on one of the standards in alignment with the swing post, each of these standards being also provided with upper and lower keepers adapted to engage the latches on the gate. On the central latch guide of each gate is also fulcrumed an elbow lever connected through a link by one of its members with one of the members of each of the elbow levers on the swing post, the other member of the elbow lever on the latch guide being connected with one of the latches on the gate. From each end of the levers pivoted on the standards at each side of the gate hang down pull cords, by means of which one approaching the gate on foot or in a carriage, from either direction, may, by pulling on one of the cords, actuate the levers on the central swing post, thereby first raising the latches and then swinging the gate open until the latches engage the keepers upon one of the standards. In opening the gate, the lever upon the standard is moved to a diagonal position by a slightly forward pull, and the gate is closed, after passing through, by a corresponding backward pull.

Disposing of Sewage.

The claim is made for Germany of having the most complete and successful system of sewage disposal of any country on the continent of Europe. In Berlin, where the features of this system are so perfectly represented, the drains from the houses receive both the rain water, the refuse water from the kitchen, etc., and the contents of the water closets, conducting them to an arrangement of radial sewers, through which, by a natural fall, they pass to a dozen different pumping stations within the area of the town. From these the sewage, through the medium of combined force and suction pumps, proceeds through pipes of three feet or still greater diameter to the land which the corporation of Berlin possesses, the material thence making its final exit through a system of conduits so arranged that, before reaching them, it has parted with all its manurial power to the soil through which it is made to pass. The sewage water thus filtered reaches the river through the natural fall of the conduits in a comparatively purified state.

An Improved Unicycle.

The wheel shown in the illustration, patented by a Chicagoan, is designed to facilitate traveling at a high rate of speed, while being of comparatively durable and simple construction. The rim has a cushion tire, two outwardly curved webs from which form a casing or cage for the rider, the webs preferably forming spokes connected with central hubs in which is a shaft on which is loosely hung a frame carrying a seat for the rider. In the forward lower end of the frame are also journals in which turns the crank shaft, with crank arms engaged by the feet of the rider in the usual way, the sprocket chains connecting with wheels on the main shaft on opposite sides of the seat and within the hubs, whereby the wheel is rotated.

The brake shoe is on the lower end of a vertically arranged fork, the upper end of each arm of which has a handle in easy reach of the rider, while springs on the fork arms normally hold the brake shoe out of contact with the rim. The wheel is held in upright position at rest by two rods sliding in vertical guides on the frame, the lower forked ends of the rods being normally held out of contact with the ground by springs, and the rods being pressed down into the ground by means of handles at each side of the saddle. At the lower extremity of the frame is a basket to hold packages, etc., and connected with the basket is a rod on which is held an adjustable weight to counterbalance the weight of the rider on the seat. That the rider may readily pass in or out of the cage, one of the spokes on each side is connected with the hub by means of a hinge, the outer end of the hinged spoke engaging a keeper on the side of the rim by means of a spring latch. The steering is readily effected by the rider bending to one side or the other.

Wire-Rope Tramways.

It is strange that more attention has not been given to the means of transportation of which the wire-rope tramway is the fundamental idea. What more simple means of getting about than that presented by a wire upon which light and strong wire baskets run by means of grooved wheels put on in pulley-fashion. The baskets may be made to hold two, four or six, and can be run out upon the main cable by suitably arranged machinery. The cable may be on the grip or trolley systems, and the basket attachments can be so arranged as to clasp securely over the wire and at the same time run without difficulty through the supporting framework that supports the wire. There would be no heavy, cumbersome and expensive cars; the strain on the cables would be much less than one might imagine, and rapid transit would be secured at a minimum of cost. As a carrier for ore and other articles this system has done most excellent service. In one place having a clear span of 2,250 feet, and at an angle of forty-five degrees, loads of 1,200 pounds were carried in about one and one-half minutes.

The Samoan Question.

In view of the agitation concerning the attitude of this government toward Samoa, and the reports that it proposes to withdraw from the existing tripartite control, the appointment of James H. Mulligan of Kentucky as consul general has a special interest. Mr. Mulligan is widely known throughout Kentucky as a man of ability and high character. He is about 50 years of age a lawyer, and has occupied many positions of trust and responsibility, having served one term as state senator and for several years as a member of the lower house of the legislature. His friends regard him as peculiarly equipped for the duties of the office he is now about to assume. The character of his instructions is not known, but it is not believed in well-informed circles that the government is prepared to withdraw absolutely from the existing treaty arrangement and hand over the islands to exclusive foreign control. There may, however, be modifications of this agreement with a view of securing a form of administration more acceptable to the islanders, while at the same time assuring proper protection to American interests.

JAMES H. MULLIGAN.

Death of Duc de Dino.

Duc de Dino, who was one of the oldest foreign residents in Florence, died there recently at the age of eighty-one. He was a younger brother of the Duc de Sagan et Valencay, and had lived in Florence all his life. The Duc de Dino's eldest son, the Marquis de Talleyrand-Perigord, married Miss Bessie Curtis, an American lady of great attractions, from whom he was divorced a few weeks ago, and has since married another American. By one of those curious arrangements which render foreign titles so confusing, the son has changed names with his father, he being known as the Duc de Dino, while his father had descended to Marquis de Talleyrand Perigord.

Mrs. Drews' Experience.

Mrs. John Drew, that veteran but still charming actress, recently had an experience that was as unique as it was pleasant. She was playing in a southern town and accepted an invitation to attend a reception. Her hostess urged her to be sure to keep the engagement, "because an old gentleman is to be there who was present at your first performance on any stage, and remembers it distinctly, though he was only 3 years old at the time." She refused to tell his name, and Mrs. Drew said she thought of nothing else for three days, even dreaming of the old gentleman. Finally the day came, and at the door of the house Mrs. Drew encountered her old friend, Joseph Jefferson, who said to her: "Just fancy! I am to meet an old lady here to-day who saw me act the first time I ever appeared on the stage. I'm quite excited over it." When they got inside, the hostess confessed that she had tried her little ruse in order to get both the artists to attend, and Jefferson admitted that Mrs. Drew had attended his first appearance on any stage.

MRS. DREW.

A New Bridge Plan.

The south branch of the Chicago has a nearly completed bridge that is unique. Instead of the ordinary draw, it has an iron tower of trellis-work at either end. These towers are nearly two hundred feet high, and support machinery for hoisting the bridge entirely out of the way of navigation. The main structure goes up as smoothly as a dumb-waiter until it is one hundred and fifty-five feet above the water, where it hangs until the engineer starts the ponderous machinery, when it as slowly sinks again. The arrangement has met with so much favor that other bridges on the same plan are talked of.

Jenny Lind Memorial.

The memorial recently unveiled in the Poet's Corner in Westminster abbey to the famous singer, Jenny Lind, is a striking medallion portrait in profile, carried out in marble by the late Mr. Birch, R. A. Encircling the medallion is the inscription: "I Know That My Redeemer Liveth," which air of Handel's was the favorite of the diva. A lyre, with date of the singer's birth and death, supports the whole. A large gathering was present at the ceremony of unveiling, including Mr. Goldschmidt, the husband of Jenny Lind, with his sons, daughter and grandchildren, with many distinguished persons of the social and musical world.

HARPER'S HISTORY OF THE WAR

Harper's Pictorial History is universally recognized as the best history of the war yet published. This superb work has never been sold for less than $16 to $30. It has been sold only by subscription and but a very few men have been able to buy it.

The pages are the same size as Harper's Weekly and the work contains all the illustrations appearing in that great paper during the war. The work was edited by Richard Grant White and Henry M. Alden and is authentic, complete and reliable.

We have made arrangements whereby we can furnish Gazette subscribers with this splendid history of twenty-six parts at ten cents a part. These twenty-six parts will contain over one thousand war pictures and will make two handsome volumes when bound.

Many official documents of priceless historic value are quoted in full in the copious foot notes, such for instance as Lincoln's inauguration speeches, articles of federation of the early states, constitution of the United States, ordinance of secession, and many important papers, speeches, etc. The war story is consecutive and very fascinating. The introductory chapters, leading up to the struggle, and the chapter on the reconstruction period, are by some of the first writers of the age.

Far From the Madding Crowd.

This what many a nervous sufferer wishes himself every day. But there will soon be no necessity to forsake the busy—albeit somewhat noisy—scenes of metropolitan life, if the nervous invalid will begin, and persist in the use of Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, which will speedily bring relief to a weak and overstrung nervous system. Day by day the body acquires vigor through the influence of this reliable tonic, and in the vitality which it diffuses through the system the nerves conspicuously share. Sleep, appetite, digestion—all these are promoted by this popular invigorant, and if they are, who can doubt that the acquisition of health and nerve quietude will be speedy and complete? Constipation, biliousness, malaria, nausea, sea sickness and cramps in the stomach yield to this remedy.

Not Verified.

"Will—you," he said, timidly, "will you have some ice-cream?"

"No, thank you," replied the young woman. "I very seldom eat it."

He looked surprised.

"Do you mind getting engaged to me? I know that you have been engaged to several other young men this summer. But that doesn't count."

"I was never engaged in my life," she replied.

A slight pallor came over his face.

"Pardon me, but do you know that your hat is not on exactly straight?"

"Isn't it?" Oh, well, I can fix it when I get home."

He looked at her with a ghastly stare.

"Great Scott!" he exclaimed, "have I read the comic weeklies all these years for nothing?"

And he sank to the pavement and moaned.—Washington Star.

Thoughtful of Her.

Clara (who is going to Europe)—Won't you come down to the steamer and see me off to-morrow?

Maude—What's the use? It would only make you feel badly.

Clara—But I thought you would like to meet some of the men.—Puck.

Is the Engagement Still On?

Henry—Yes, Carry, I love you with all my heart.

Carry—It seems strange, Henry, that you should think so much of me.

Henry—I don't know about that. There's no accounting for tastes, you know.—Answers.

The Relief of Tears.

"I've been to the funeral of Norton's uncle, who left him everything."

"Was Norton's grief uncontrollable?"

"Yes; he couldn't shed a tear."—Puck.

WHAT AILS YOU?

Do you feel dull, languid, low-spirited, fullness or bloating after eating, tongue coated, bitter or bad taste in mouth, irregular appetite, frequent headaches, "floating specks" before eyes, nervous prostration and drowsiness after meals?

If you have any considerable number of these symptoms, you are suffering from Torpid Liver, associated with Dyspepsia, or Indigestion. The more complicated your disease the greater the number of symptoms. No matter what stage it has reached, Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery will subdue it.

MRS. MOTT.

MRS. MARY MOTT, of Raven Rock, Pleasants Co., W. Va., writes: "Before using your Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, everything I ate would ferment in my stomach, and my tongue was so terribly coated, I thought nothing would remove it. Since taking the 'Golden Medical Discovery,' I can eat a good meal, and enjoy it."

A VETERAN'S VERDICT.

The War is Over. A Well-known Soldier, Correspondent and Journalist Makes a Disclosure.

Indiana contributed her thousands of brave soldiers to the war, and no state bears a better record in that respect than it does. In literature it is rapidly acquiring an enviable place. In war and literature Solomon Yewell, well known as a writer as "Sol," has won an honorable position. During the late war he was a member of Co. M, 2d. N. Y. Cavalry and of the 13th Indiana Infantry Volunteers. Regarding an important circumstance he writes as follows:

"Several of us old veterans here are using Dr. Miles' Restorative Nervine, Heart Cure and Nerve and Liver Pills, all of them giving splendid satisfaction. In fact, we have never used remedies that compare with them. Of the Pills we must say they are the best combination of the qualities required in a preparation of their nature we have ever known. We have none but words of praise for them. They are the outgrowth of a new principle in medicine, and tone up the system wonderfully. We say to all, try these remedies."—Solomon Yewell, Marion, Ind., Dec. 5, 1892.

These remedies are sold by all druggists on a positive guarantee, or sent direct by the Dr. Miles Medical Co., Elkhart, Ind., on receipt of price, $1 per bottle, six bottles $5, express prepaid. They positively contain neither opiates nor dangerous drugs.

BRIEF BITS OF HUMOR.

An Unkind Remark.

A young married lady living not far from Lenox avenue was visited by one of her dearest friends with whom she went to school at Vassar, and who is still unmarried. In reply to a question from the visitor the recently married lady said:

"You have no idea how absent-minded my husband is!"

"That's what I thought he must be when I heard you were engaged," was the breezy reply.—Alex Sweet, in Texas Siftings.

A Wave of Reform.

Little Johnny—I won't be kept after school for whispering to Tommy Dodd any more.

Mother—I am glad of that.

"Yes'm. Tommy sat behind me and I had to turn my head to whisper to him, and the teacher always saw me."

"You won't do it any more, I hope."

"Nome. I've got a seat behind Tommy, and now he'll have to turn his head."—Good News."

He Knew by Experience.

I shall never forget the advice of one good old German. He told me one day:

"My poy, don'd garry your het op in de air ven you valk on de street. Always look on de ground. Perhabs you find someding. I hef looked on de ground ven I valk for dirdy-fife years, and I found sefenteen cends alreatty."—N. Y. Herald.

The Way of It.

"The prisoner says he only struck you once and you say he struck you twice," said the judge. "How do you explain that?"

"This way," said O'Hoolihan. "First he struck me for two dollars, an' not gettin' ut he struck me for the love o' foightin'."—Harper's Bazar.

Not at All Mercenary.

He—If I were a poor man, you would never have married me, would you?

She—Certainly not. I love you the way you are and if you had been poor you would have been so unlike your present self that I couldn't have loved you. You see, my dear, it isn't the money, it's the combination.—Detroit Free Press.

No Intentions to Speak Of.

"Dora," said her mother to the summer girl, "isn't that young Mr. Smarters getting very pronounced in his attentions?"

"Oh, that's all right, mamma," said Dora. "He doesn't mean anything. We're engaged."—Chicago Record.

Cynic—How strange that you women are so afraid of rats alive and so partial to them after death.

Cynic—More than half your French kid gloves are made of rat skins.—Arkansaw Traveler.

Making Himself Popular.

Mrs. Chatters—Dear me, the new curate is such an interesting young man.

Mrs. Nextdoor—What did he talk about when he called?

Mrs. Chatters—He listened patiently while I told him all about my baby's new tooth.—Tid-Bits.

Clara (looking at her tight waist)—Force of habit, I suppose.—Brooklyn Life.

SUMMER BOOKS.

Judic Chollet Discusses Them With Her Usual Good Sense.

In these days, when "novel" is merely an alluring name for an essay on social or medical problems flimsily covered by a transparent veil of narrative, like the gelatin coating of a quinine capsule, it is hard to find a book that may be read for the sheer pleasure of it, with no necessity for diving into the dark depths of science and ethics. Even the ordinary society love story, that once most popular of tales, has been thrust into the background by the crowd of dissertations on brain wearying themes that beguile us into reading them by their specious claims to the title of light literature. There would be danger of a revolt in favor of dime novels if it were not possible to once in awhile get hold of such a story as Stevenson's "Treasure Island," full of delightfully unabstruse mutineers, buried gold and bloodshed, and so well written that the reader, like the recipient of Sam Weller's valentine, will "vish there vos more."

Without wishing to add another new theory to the innumerable host now buzzing like bees in different bonnets, it may be suggested that possibly some women have a lurking fancy for personal experience of moving accidents by flood and field, not as strong as the adventurous instinct in men, but still strong enough to give a charm, in addition to its own charming style, to such a book as "The Admirable Lady Biddy Fane," for instance.

If we could all live in caves for the next month or two, the interest in dainty summer gowns might relax a little. As we cannot do that, we must be content to read "Lady Biddy" on the veranda in the prettiest costume that the heat permits. A sketch is given of a gown of old rose foulard. The round skirt, trimmed with four bands of white lace insertion, has a plain princess tablier in front, the left side of which is trimmed with black satin bows. The back and right side of the bodice are trimmed with three bands of insertion, while the left side is draped with white lace to match. The corsage opens in a V over a full plastron of white silk muslin. The elbow sleeves consist of two puffs finished by a lace flounce.

JUDIC CHOLLET.

No Choice.

"Maria," called the old gentleman, "have you seen anything of my new umbrella?"

"Y-yes, papa," stammered Maria; "I—I lent it to Mr. Barlow last night—he promised to return it at once."

"He did, did he?" snorted the enraged parent. "Well, that umbrella cost me ten dollars."

"But Mr. Barlow 'll be sure to return it at once—he is going away in a day or two, so your sure of getting it."

"Sure of getting it?" echoed the father, "and he going away? Maria, my child, say good-bye to Mr. Barlow. If he isn't smart enough to know a good umbrella when he sees it I could never consent to all ow such a blockhead in my house."—Judge.

Not Fitting.

The vestal virgin with the raven tresses gazed dreamily across the blue waters.

"It is the will of the senatus populusque Romanus," she murmured, "that I remain forever inviolate."

Tears sprang into the blue eyes of the Gothic maiden.

"And if there is any color which makes dark people look horrider than another," she exclaimed, "it is violet."

Thus the decaying civilization of the city of the Seven Hills received sympathy from the vigorous life of the north.—Truth.

Miss Ethel Ingalls.

The engagement of Miss Ethel Ingalls, daughter of ex-Senator J. J. Ingalls, to Dr. Edward G. Blair of Atchison, Kan., is of great interest in the social circles of Washington, where Miss Ingalls was a famous belle during the last few years of her father's senatorial service. Miss Ingalls is beautiful as well as brilliant. She is tall, well proportioned and erect, with a fine figure and small, beautifully shaped hands and feet. Since her father's retirement from public life Miss Ingalls has led a quiet life at the family homestead, Oakridge, just outside of Atchison, where she was born about 24 years ago. Her time is principally devoted to literary pursuits. Miss Ingalls is the eldest of the ex-senator's four daughters and the third of 11 children, of whom seven are still living.

Fooled the Judge.

Lord Hannen, the distinguished English judge, was never known to be hoaxed but on one occasion. A juryman dressed in deep mourning, serious and downcast in expression, stood up and claimed exemption from service on that day, as he was deeply interested in a funeral of a gentleman at which it was his desire to be present. "Oh, certainly," was the courteous reply of the judge, and the sad man went. "My lord," interposed the clerk, as the ex-juryman had gone, "do you know who that man is that you exempted?" "No." "He is an undertaker."—Argonaut.

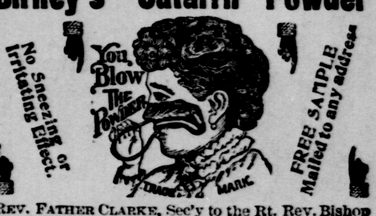
Catarrh AND COLD IN THE HEAD relieved instantly by one application of Birney's Catarrh Powder



REV. FATHER CLARKE, Sec'y to the Rt. Rev. Bishop of Columbus, Ohio, writes;

GENTLEMEN:—I cannot say enough for your Powder. It has cured me of an aggravated attack of catarrh when nothing else could help me. Am delighted with it. All my friends to whom I administered samples are quite enthusiastic over it. The good sisters speak most encouragingly of their use of it in the Hospital under their care. I will do anything to speak a good word for the remedy to help others who are suffering.

M. E. FERGUSON, Custodian U. S. Appraiser's Stores, Chicago, writes:

GENTLEMEN:—Being almost entirely deaf for a number of years past and getting no relief from many so-called cures which I tried, was induced by a friend to try Dr. Birney's Catarrhal Powder for my deafness. Have recovered my hearing entirely, so that I can now hear a watch tick plainly, it being held 18 inches from my ear. I look upon it as a positive cure for deafness and have recommended its use to many of my friends and can say I have never heard of a case where it has failed to relieve.
